Sprint debut at SA Oct. 30 was a beaut as he was away slowly but finished with gusto to be a sharp 2nd to a real promising Baffert; got a heady Beyer to boot; worked a few times since and Smith, who was up for that first run, stays with him; of course, you'd like to see a better start though with that race under his belt there's cause for optimism in that regard; Glatt has strong 2nd-time-out numbers.

CD debut June 9 wasn't too hot but you can always be forgiving about a debut; note, too, he was sent off the 2-1 favorite so somebody saw something they liked; resurfaced at SA a few months later Oct. 30, showed speed to press the pace and kept on decently for 3rd; that was a big move forward and he got a heady Beyer, though he was still 2-plus lengths behind runner-up and today's foe Spun Intended so he's got some work to do to if he's to cut into, negate or overcome that gap, though it's surely not out of reach.

 Debut at SA Oct. 30 was mixed as he showed some speed before tiring to end up a well-beaten 4th, well behind today's foes Spun Intended and Johannes in 2nd and 3rd, respectively; of course, that was just his debut and it was his stablemate who won, so could be Baffert just wanted to get a good race into this guy; well, he's had his race and as good as Baffert is first time out (30%) he's as good 2nd time out (also 30%) so a big move forward would hardly surprise.

 Debut here Aug. 13 wasn't much but you can always be forgiving about a first run; he was also chasing Cave Rock, the West's top 2yo male who came back to win the G1 DMR Futurity and G1 American Pharoah; dropped in for a tag, albeit a big one ($80K), with blinkers, and rallied well for 2nd here Sept. 5; that was a sign he's heading the right way; that said, he hasn't been seen since and is back up in class; at least worked well for this; 1 of 2 sibs is winner Pitufina (32-3-3-7, $33K).

CLOSER LOOK: Only 2 poor outings came with excuses; when a dull 6th in the G1 Manhattan at BEL June 10 that was at 10fs, which is a bit beyond him; then last time out at KEE in the G1 Turf Mile he was not only facing some of the best milers in the WORLD but the mile may be a tad too sharp for him; freshened since as they skipped the G1 BC Mile with this race in mind instead; sure, he's not facing any patsies but there's still some class relief, it's a slightly longer trip which plays better for him and he ran superbly on this course when a sharp 2nd in the G1 HOL Derby a year ago.

Solid veteran continues his good work; led all the way to win the G2 John Henry at SA last time out Oct. 1 but let's face it, those were splits much slower than he'll see here with Beyond Brilliant and Smooth Like Strait in this line-up; also, it's a shorter, sharper trip; oh, he handles it but can he do so as effectively vs. THIS caliber?; just 5-1-0-0 here, too.

Showed talent in England in 2021 and he's really adapted to his new surroundings in the U.S. here this year, winning 4 of his 5 starts; that includes a big win in the G2 DMR Mile on this course last time out Sept. 3; tacks on a bit more ground but he's a multiple winner going 9fs so this trip should be no sweat; that said, this spot looks tougher than those 5 prior U.S. races; on the other hands, he's had more time to get acclimated and you know he handles this course just fine, with some versatility to boot.

Been knocking heads with the best miler/middle distance dudes the past couple seasons and more than holding how own; that said, the wins have been a bit elusive as he's just 1 for his last 11; at least done plenty of good work here (6-2-4-0); even so, that good work came a while ago and his G1 BC Mile try wasn't very pretty; sure, that was his first start in 3 months but that layoff before that race couldn't have been the plan; speed to be in it from the start, yes, but the guy to his right is as quick or quick and that BC Mile run makes you wonder if he's lost a step or 2.

Stalked the pace in the G1 BC Mile at KEE Nov. 5, was still in it turning for home but then fell away, ending up 8th; oh, that wasn't a bad run but it still leaves him with work to do; this spot isn't as tough to be sure, but he's tacking on another half-furlong and there's other serious speed to give him issues early in the form of Smooth Like Strait; at least been big on this course and is proven at this trip, but note all 5 career wins came wire to wire but the presence of 'Strait may mean he'll have to do something he's NEVER done before - win from off the pace.

Finished strongly to be a sharp 2nd in a turf sprint at SA Nov. 6; not only did he finish well, it was his first start in 9-plus months so he's eligible to move forward; of course, he'd better move forward as these are tougher than he's seen before and just because a horse rallies sprinting it doesn't mean he'll route; and it's not as if he's done his best work here (4-0-0-1).

Comes off a couple decent mile efforts when 2nd in the G2 DMR Mile here (to Hong Kong Harry) and 5th in the G2 City of Hope Mile at SA Oct. 1 (to Beyond Brilliant); must not only deal with those foes again but a few others who may be even tougher, and is asked to go even longer for the privilege; at least the way he kept on in those last 3 at a mile hints today's added half-furlong shouldn't be too big a hardship, though what may be an obstacle is the level of opposition.

Rallied with gusto to win a G3 at PIM Sept. 10, and then maybe put up the best effort of his career when finishing strongly in the G1 Turf Mile at KEE Oct. 8; after all, a mile may be short of his best game, he was far back early and facing some of the best milers in the world yet ran on strongly; nice to see they skipped the G1 BC Mile, opting to wait for this instead; must deal with new surroundings but he's shipped before and run well and today's added half-furlong plays to his strength; scary.

Main issue is whether this level is too much; yes, he beat some nice allowance foes at this trip on KEE turf Oct. 15 (the guy he beat back into 2nd, In Love, is a G1 SW) but his 5 graded stakes tries saw him run 7th, 7th, 9th, 7th and 5th; that includes being beaten by Santin and Sent Piece, both of whom he faces again here; at least comes here sharp, having posted a career-top Beyer in that Oct. 15 KEE win and it's most encouraging they opted to put him on a plane and ship across the country; still, the level of competition and a tough far-outside draw are hurdles. -Michael Hammersly

Held good form from the winter of 2021 into this spring with a number of sharp efforts on GP dirt, CD dirt, DMR dirt, LRC dirt and SA turf; that said, after a smart win on SA turf March 27 he hasn't been seen since, and let's face it, you don't usually take a horse in peak form and put him away for 8 months without good reason; the good news is there's no drop in for a tag for this return, Yakteen can fire off the bench and this guy has shown ability on this track and vs. nice winners; Cedillo stays and he was up for his 2 wins over winners; still, the layoff is worrisome. -Michael Hammersly

CLOSER LOOK: Tough race to end the day; 5yo gelding was 6th in a race like this at SA Oct. 8, but was beaten just 1 1/4 lengths and had trouble to boot; cuts back a half-furlong, which isn't an issue, and moves to a course on which he's run, so that's no problem; Hernandez was up last time and has been up for most of his best work (including his last 3 wins) this year; can save ground with the rail draw and hopefully get out to make his run when need be.

A sharp 2nd on this course at this type of trip Nov. 11; of course, that came vs. likely a slightly softer bunch but you can't take away from him that he ran well here; HOF rider Velazquez takes the call and while it's a half-furlong farther that shouldn't be a problem as he finished well in his last 2 going a mile; still, no Beyers over 77 mean he likely has to run a race he hasn't run yet to beat these; can blinkers add up to the necessary improvement?

U.S. debut at SA Nov. 4 wasn't much, but not only was it his first start in the U.S. it was his first start in 8 months; and let's face it, he didn't run badly either; can benefit from that outing, it's nice to see no subsequent drop or layoff since and while it's his first time going this far that doesn't figure to be an issue; nice, too, that Prat takes the call; all that being said, he's 3-0-0-0 on turf so he's unproven on the sod facing a bunch who consider this ground their forte.

That 3rd in a turf sprint at SA Nov. 5 at this level was excellent as he was away slowly, wide on the turn and then had traffic issues in the lane - yet he still finished smartly for 3rd; of course just because a horse rallies sprinting doesn't mean he'll route; at least he's had some route success, albeit a long time ago on synthetic footing, but it still shows this trip likely isn't beyond him; while he closed from well back last time note speed shown in other starts so there's versatility here as well.

Speed can help him flee this outside post; finished just behind 'Buck in a race like this here Sept. 10; hasn't run since but he's performed well off a layoff, including a sharp 4th in a stakes on this course in July 2021; figures prominent from the start, though note his wins actually came from just off the pace so he might be best using his speed to get a nice stalking position; some smart recent works say he's doing well. -Michael Hammersly
