CLOSER LOOK: Has some credentials for a wet main track if this is not on grass finishing 3rd in the CD slop closing past tired runners last fall here; handles grass too as 2-back is the field's-best Beyer speed figure; none of these have been as far as today's 1 Mile and 1-2 distance; her late closing style suggests she will love this with the big post change moving to the rail after breaking widest.

Not exactly what you wanted to see coming into this marathon 1 Mile and 1-2 event exiting a career-low Beyer in her return to CD turf while she's lost ground from stretch to finish in 3 straight losses at shorter; the 2-back winner repeated in an IND-150 K stakes with a 78 Beyer; would be a shocker.

CLOSER LOOK: Makes first start off the claim for Wilkes, who is 1-for-13 with such runners over 5 years (there were 7 such starts in 2025, but the win was in 2021); today brings first chance for filly to string 2 races together; her dam has 3 winners from 4 other foals including a debuter who scored in Indiana earlier this month; can see the search for value in getting her for $30K after she sold for 5 times that as a yearling; guessing game as to which way she goes from here.

Barn is 13-for-95 over 5 years with runners moving from SpWt company to maiden claimers; really dull effort upon return and it merits mention that nobody from the 10/22 field has won on DIRT since then; decent tactical speed to this one and it probably isn't wrong to be forgiving about that dud off the shelf while hoping for better now; just need to demand a square price for the relative risk involved.

Beat 2 home for double this tag in latest after a poor effort going longer in local return; she has been competitive since the long layoff but now approaches middle of 4yo season while still a maiden; does bring the best speed figures of a group that generally lacks a true headliner; can familiarity with the surface and recent tries over longer trips get her home in front at 7 panels?

Yet to know a chance over a fast strip but she has given good account of herself to date; the 5/24 runner-up returned to run 4th here the other day; winner of latest was a longshot debuter who got there from well back, so the race flow certainly wasn't working against this one; can be competitive again at same level and with more ground, perhaps on a fast strip?

She sprang to life vs. softer in latest and the winner that day returned to be runner-up next out with a similar Beyer; the 5th finisher came back to win here on Wednesday; this miss has been competitive for a while in most starts and nobody in here has gone significantly faster despite higher classifications; still searching for her most productive style but it is still fairly early; could do worse than to have a decent try at the track and trip just 3.5 weeks ago.

Can see overlooking the synthetic debut and the recent turf experiment but this IS a 4yo who now has limited potential for improvement; the 8 returnees from the 4/30 event went 0-1-1-3 in their next starts; hard to say whether the 7-panel distance will make a serious difference in her performance; do know that she needs to move forward and that her chances for so doing are dwindling.

Moves in vs. sellers after facing foes restricted to those who sold for $65K or less; pair of steady efforts to begin career and only try over this strip was in the goo; she did take lots of action prior to latest so perhaps hidden in that is some potential ial that didn't fully show up over the wet going; 3yo has every right to jump up and top these.

$160K purchase in Sept. of 2024 is debuting for $50K claiming so that's the big concern; sire gets 13% winners from firsters while dam raced once on turf and not well; 2nd dam was runner-up in a number of graded stakes and banked $370K from 10 exacta finishes in 12 starts; only sibling was a speedy DEBUT winner last year with a hefty 91 Beyer attached (raced only once since); barn 3-for-last-101 with firsters but scored with one 5 tries back, last fall; just a minor hiccup in solid work-tab.

She has known many chances although is still no older than any of the others in here; competitive effort in the 2-back run but she'd have to do better to fit in the mix with a few of these; just a pair from the 5/7 race have returned on dirt since and we didn't learn much from those; 4/9 race at Kee had a valid figure and the winner returned to cruise in a 5-horse field at Parx while boosting his Beyer by 8 points; this seems a tough one to back given the need for figure improvement if she's to threaten. -George Cottrell

Blinkers come back on; his only prior start with the hood represents his 2nd lowest Beyer ever; his last dirt start was on a wet track posting his career best speed figure on a sloppy track which would move him up; style suggests he may need longer than 6 furlongs to see best form.

Nothing wrong with what this miss has shown from two starts over turf and that was a solid run in her latest outing when attempting a route for the first time; she has a lot of potential for better behind her at this stage of her career, and even slight improvement will make her a threat to walk away with the top prize; must consider.

Tough to endorse a mare with a 1-for-26 career mark for the top spot, but her recent form has been decent and not going to be surprised to see her round out an exacta or a trifecta; note that two of her three starts over this turf course have been good o nes.

She's run a number of respectable races over dirt, and even though her two turf starts haven't been her best, this really isn't a bad spot to give her another chance to see what she can do on grass; leaning toward others but wouldn't consider her a total shocker.

She looks like she's coming around nicely and not going to be surprised to see her improve over that solid turf run two starts ago; this barn has been raging all year, and this filly is a full to multiple stakes winner Tobys Heart (5-17, 673k over turf); Saez has won with 4 of 8 (50%) mounts for this barn at the current meeting.

Her most recent turf start, two races ago over this turf course, was her best effort to date, but she is going to need to improve over that performance if she's to challenge the top contenders in her; prefer to look in another direction.

She has a chance to prove to be a useful 30k claim for her current connections, and if she can rediscover the form that she displayed at Saratoga last year, she can prove to be a threat for the top spot; feel that she has a chance at a price.

She's recorded two wins and two runner-up finishes from nine starts over turf, and she's one of just three in here that have recorded a win over the Churchill Downs turf; not sure if her best effort is strong enough to win this, but a minor award seems to be within her reach.

She was beaten by today's rival Breaking Hearts two races ago while making her first start after taking a lot of time off, and that was a nice step forward she took in her latest outing to earn her first career win; this barn isn't best known for turf success but it looks like they have this filly heading in the right direction.
